The Scottish Premier League board are meeting today to discuss if Hearts should be sanctioned over the apparent collapse of their majority shareholder UBIG.

The club could face an 18 point deduction and instant relegation to the Scottish First Division, or the prospect of starting next season with minus 15 points.

UBIG were listed on a Lithuanian government website of insolvent firms last week.

Laura Robson has risen to a career high 35th in the latest women's tennis world rankings.

Her victory over Venus Williams in last week's Italian Open helped the British number one move up four places.

Fellow Brit Heather Watson, who's currently taking time out of the sport to recover from glandular fever, slipped down three places to 50th.
